Each Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Fairhope Museum of History, Council Chamber Gallery

April 4– Zach Sierke – Zach Sierke ties together geology, history and current creative practices in clay on the Eastern Shore - including where his great, great grandfather, Homer Howard, made jugs on Cowpen Creek.

April 11 – Dr. Harrison Howard – Dr. Harrison Howard, USA Mitchell Cancer Institute Oncologist at the Kilborn Clinic on Fairhope Ave. will discuss revolutions in melanoma treatment options, how to recognize it and prevention techniques.

April 18 – Clyde Ingersoll – A life-long resident of Fairhope, Clyde Ingersoll started at Ingersoll Dairy. We now know him as Ingersoll’s Refrigeration Air Conditioning & Heating, Inc. Hear stories of growing up in Fairhope, how Fairhope has changed and more.

April 25 – Erin Brown - Blending a modern style with age-old therapies commonly practiced elsewhere, Erin Brown and Brent Dowsey opened Salt Life Spa in 2018. Hear about the story and benefits others have experienced through relaxing in – and even playing in! – salt.

May 2 – Trinka Brabston –Master Gardener and Fairhope resident of 42 years, Trainka Brabston will discuss the history of sugar cane – “It’s a sweet treat and more!” With roots in other parts of the world, learn how this plant is tied to Baldwin County history and industry.

May 9 – Rick Miller – Rick Miller, Center Director of Hatch, a new business resource hub for technology-based entrepreneurs, will tell us more about providing Baldwin County’s startups with a place to learn and grow.

May 16– Billy Estes and Mark Tullos, Jr. –Billy Estes volunteers at the Fairhope Museum of History and the board of directors of the new 58,000 sq. ft., $48 million Mississippi Arts and Entertainment Experience. Mark Tullos, Jr. is President and CEO of the MAX. Come hear about the project from the ground up.

May 23 – Tamara Dean – Tamara Dean, Director of the Fairhope Public Library, has been part of the community since 1985. With degrees in Educational Leadership and Library & Information Science, she first served as Youth Services Director. Hear how the library has grown and what’s in store.

May 30 – Art Thomas – Born in 1942 at Fels and Summit Streets, Art Thomas has lived most of his life in Fairhope. His father and grandfather were police officers when the museum building housed the police department. Come hear stories of old Fairhope!
